Art Unit: 3636

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1,3-7,10,11,13,14,17,19,20,23 and 26 are rejected under 35

U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Pentzien.

Figures 1-6 show structure as claimed, including dual-rate leaf springs interconnecting upper and lower castings, wherein the leaf springs have a first effective length defined by the distance between the upper and lower castings, and a second effective length defined by the distance between the connection pins that connect the springs to the castings. Note that, as shown particularly in figure 2, the bending movement of the leaf spring forwardly as shown by the phantom line would not appear to be limited by the upper surface of the lower casting, which is the case for rearward bending movement of the spring.

In regards to claim 23, note the swivel mechanism 45.

Claims 8,9,15,16,21,22,24 and 25 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claim 27 is allowed.

Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

The rejection of the claims under Pentzien has been set forth in detail above. Note that the dual-rate of the springs has been explained, and is determined by the length between the castings, and the length between the connections of the leaf springs to the castings.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
